About me

I am a responsible person with a passion for innovation, sports, healthy living. Although I am a student, I have already started to develop my professional career over the past few years. I have actively participated in numerous projects, taking on leadership roles as a football coach for children, where I developed strong interpersonal and organizational skills. Also as a team leader at the University I delegating tasks, and ensuring collaboration to achieve results. I am available for full-time positions, including evening or weekend shifts. I am flexible and committed to taking on new challenges. I speak English well. I am passionate about logistics, ticketing, and client support jobs, and I aspire to work in international teams where I can utilize my English skills. Additionally, I have contributed to successful projects, such as certification audits for companies in the food industry, improving efficiency through clear communication and translation. I am also deeply interested in green jobs, focusing on sustainability and innovative solutions that can positively impact the environment.
